NELLIE MUENCH IDENTIFIED AS FINGER WOMAN

KIDNAPING CASE GETS UNDERWAY AT MEXICO, MO.

Justice Of The Peace First Witness At Hearing

By Howard W. Fieger
Associated Press Staff Writer

Mexico, Mo., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Mrs. Nellie Muench, middle-aged, "fist" from God's mother and former St. Louis actress, testified today at a hearing here today as a state's witness identified her in court as the "finger woman" in a 1931 abduction.

Adolph Fiedler, 515-penned corner St. Louis county justice of the peace, and the first witness called in the hearing, identified Mrs. Muench as a state's witness identified her in court as the "finger woman" in a 1931 abduction.

"Do you know the defendant, Nellie Muench?" he asked. "Yes," replied Fiedler, who appeared in Mexico today with a body guard of St. Louis county deputy sheriffs, armed with sub-machine guns.

"Defendants where she is sitting," ordered John Wolfe, assistant St. Louis county prosecutor, who is in charge of the state's case.

As Fiedler looked toward Mrs. Muench she looked away.

Then the witness continued testimony with the assistance of her attorney, who appeared in Mexico today with a body guard of St. Louis county deputy sheriffs, armed with sub-machine guns.

FRANK D. WHIPP QUILTS POST AT JOLIET PRISON

Resigns After More Than 30 Years In State Service

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Colonel Frank D. Whipp, veteran warden of the Joliet penitentiary, today submitted his resignation after more than thirty years in the state's service.

"Feeling that I need a rest," he asked Governor Horner to relieve him from duty as head of the Joliet and Stateville prisons, preferably on October 14.

Despite changes in administrations, Whipp has continued to occupy important state positions, most of them in the Department of Public Welfare and its predecessors. It was pointed out that, since his appointment as warden in 1932, there have been no riots in the crowded penitentiaries at Joliet.

The governor was in Chicago when the resignation was received. Mr. Horner is known to have declined to appoint a Democratic warden at Joliet because of Whipp's record.

Whipp was made State Superintendent of Prisons in 1929 and was also given the Joliet penitentiary three years later following a serious outbreak among the prisoners. He held both positions until early this year, when Joseph Ragen, the warden at Joliet, replaced him as superintendent.

Whipp is an outspoken opponent of capital punishment. It was noted that he asked to be relieved of the duty before Gerald Thompson, Peoria mayor, is scheduled to be electrocuted on October 15 for the murder of a girl.

He entered the state service under former Governor Charles S. Deneen as administrative auditor. He has served 31 years in state positions, most of them under the department of public welfare.

Col. Whipp who is a retired officer of the national guard, during his military service for the state as administrative auditor was in charge of the Illinois Central railroad chaper train inspection. The asset was valued at $150,000.

Served As U. S. D. Head

Under the Department of Public Welfare he served as managing officer of the State School for the Deaf at Jacksonville, acting as assistant director of the Department of Public Welfare, superintendent of prisons, general superintendent of the state reformatory at Pontiac and president of the state conference on public welfare.

He was the Illinois delegate some years ago to an international prison conference at Prague, Czechoslovakia, and was on the educational committee of the American Prison association.

Will Ask Death Penalty For Two Men Who Allegedly Set Fire Fatal to Ten Persons

Fire Fatal to Ten Persons

Chicago, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Prosecutors declared tonight they would seek the death penalty for two prisoners who allegedly plotted a tenement fire fatal to ten persons—six of them children—to collect $2,000 insurance.

Assistant State's Attorney Marshall V. Kearney prepared to go before the grand jury asking murder indictments against Joseph Vitale, 45, proprietor of a grocery in the burned building, and Joseph Di Chiaro, 31, whom Vitale reportedly confessed to authorities he hired for a promised $100 as the "torch."

At Maxwell Street police station, Capt. John Morton said Vitale, his nephew, also Joseph Vitale, and another, Sam Jaccopelli, all named Di Chiaro as the actual incendiary. Kearney said that Di Chiaro had made "damaging admissions" after being confronted with the others' story.

With a shrug, officers said, Vitale declared he had wanted Di Chiaro to start only a small blaze in the building in which 20 persons were sleeping Sunday night.

Pressed for money, his story according to Capt. Morton was that he consulted his nephew, a tavern keeper, who proposed the fire and told him Di Chiaro was "your man for the job."

"That building is full of kids. You hadn't better do it," objected Jaccopelli, who was present at the conference, according to Morton's account.

But Sunday afternoon before Vitale closed the store for the first time in fifteen years, the arrangements were all completed. The arsonist had carried 15 gallons of gasoline into the basement on the promise he would receive $100 when Vitale collected from the insurance company.

The flames trapped the sleeping tenants. Six members of Frank Caprio's family including the father and five children, lost their lives. The other victims were Joseph Grasso and a 16-year-old daughter and Mrs. Rose Anzalone and her daughter.

Caprio and one daughter died last night as Vitale was being questioned. He had maintained innocence until his two children, with whom he had driven to the blaze in a taxicab to find the tenants screaming for aid, had related conflicting ones to the questioners.

Both Vitale and Di Chiaro were held at the Maxwell St. station.

G.O.P. ATTACKS DEPENDABILITY OF ROOSEVELT

Will Probably Be Rallying Cry

Washington, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Another republican attack on Roosevelt dependability late today paralleled the president's appeal in Los Angeles for "progressive liberals" to unite behind the New Deal.

Each development carried its own significance for 1936.

Sharpening challenges of Roosevelt's sincerity, on the one hand, have increased increasingly the campaigning ahead will be no counterpart of last year when the president personally was almost immune to criticism.

His current espousal of the liberal viewpoint, on the other hand, struck political quarters as renewed evidence of willingness to leave the extremely conservative field to the opposition.

The latest imputation of bad faith came when the republican national committee projected "Roosevelt versus Roosevelt" as a rallying cry. The Roosevelt, in another issue of "facts and opinions," was that performance has not lived up to promises.

This theme, republican spokesmen said, will be elaborated in the republican national congressional committee program of eight radio speeches in two months, which chairman Bolton opens tomorrow night. The Ohio representative spoke of "deceit" and "misrepresentation" by the administration in announcing the series.

In advance of the Los Angeles speech, differences in California democracy between followers of Senator McAdoo and those of Upton Sinclair had been subjects of comment. Mr. Roosevelt did not confine himself to the state's borders, however, in counseling liberals to "find a common ground and a common road."

The republican national committee arrangement here had to do with the recent disclosure, through an NRA report to Senator King (D-Utah), numbering employees of that power-shed agency on September 7 at 2,700.

"As candidate," it said, "the Roosevelt denounced federal bureaucracy voting paid for things neither practical nor necessary" as president, he keeps thousands on a $750,000 a year payroll, sitting around the corpse of the Blue Eagle.

Mr. Roosevelt was charged with "ignoring" the new potato limitation act, "despite his constitutional duty to execute the laws."

BRITISH FLEET CAUSES ITALY NEW CONCERN

ASKS HERSELF WHAT BRITISH INTEND TO DO

Los Angeles, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Roscoe Ates—the stuttering movie comedian—never got his tongue tangled when he spoke unkindly to his wife, Mrs. Ates testified today at a divorce hearing.

What he meant, he said, Mrs. Ates told Superior Judge Isaac Pachter—and he said it without hesitation. Judge Pachter granted the decree.

Rome, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Italy, perturbed by the fact the British fleet remains in the Mediterranean, asked herself today "what does Britain intend to do?"

The naval concentration was construed by informed quarters as a military sanction. Therefore, Italy asked, why is Britain "considering" blockade when the league has no vetoed sanctions, even economic or financial.

A Reuters London dispatch from Addis Ababa said 16 Italian submarines were reported stationed in the Red Sea and in event of war would try to intercept munitions and other war supplies which may be shipped to Ethiopia from other countries.

Referring to the British concentration, the newspaper La Tribuna said "Everyone knows what to call such monstrous absurdity—the most incredible aggression."

Italian officials said they doubted the league would vote unanimously for military sanctions. Therefore, since Sir Samuel Hoare has limited Britain to collective action only, an authoritative person commented: "Britain or her own account has anticipated a program and measures of the league Italian quarters called 'Ethiopia impending mobilization a 'warmer threat' of war and said there has been no Italian advance across Ethiopia's border."

Addis Ababa, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Increasing tension between Italy and Ethiopia led the Italian minister here, Luigi Villalobos, to order today 12 Italian consuls in "Abyssinia" to leave their posts and return to Italy.

Some 20 other Italian consuls agents in the interior are trying to reach Addis Ababa, the Sudan or Ethiopia. They are forced to travel by horse or mule and because of the boggy roads, are making slow progress.

Floods have marooned four of the agents from Debra Markos on the right bank of the River Nile at Debra Markos, a journey from this capital. Ferries are unable to cross the stream.

Foreigners, convinced a general Ethiopian mobilization is imminent, expressed belief Emperor Haile Selassie would call this week-end. Such an action, said the Italian minister, would be only a formality. He asserted all Ethiopian able-bodied men long since have been called to arms.

WANTS DIVORCE; FILES NEW BILL

MRS. BARRYMORE

Los Angeles, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Dolores Costello sealed her decision to divorce John Barrymore today by filing a new complaint, dropping charges of cruelty in an original action, but including a newly-signed property agreement between them.

In this action Miss Costello accused the actor of desertion.

The agreement stipulated she should have the custody of their two children, Dolores, 5, and John, Jr., 3, and should receive from Barrymore $150 a month for their support and hers. Payments were made retroactive beginning last August.

In addition, it stated Barrymore had agreed to pay $2,000 for the "reconditioning of their former home in Beverly Hills, to which she will return."

To high-priced automobiles, two rifles, and a shotgun also were added to the agreement.

Real estate holdings of Barrymore were to be divided equally between them, the document stated.

From the $650 monthly payments, Miss Costello agreed to use $350 for the upkeep of three insurance policies of total value of $300,000, for the benefit of the children. Should she fail to do this, Barrymore may deduct that amount from the payments to her, the settlement stipulated.

The original charge of cruelty brought by Miss Costello covered details of abusive language, excessive drinking, and physical assault on herself and a nurse. The actor, under the new complaint, was accused only of desertion.

Barrymore returned to Hollywood last week, completing a transcontinental trip on which he was trailed by 1,000 miles from New York by a posse, pretty 20-year-old Elaine Barrie. She left her train at Kansas City and returned east.

The reunion of the two famous film players, that their attorneys said they were attempting to negotiate, did not take place today.

CORONER'S JURY INVESTIGATING CO-ED'S DEATH

Escort Held In Jail For His Protection Officials Say

Colorado Springs, Colo., Oct. 1.—(AP)—The death of a pretty Colorado college co-ed, accused tonight of a murder, was being investigated by a coroner's jury which her escort was held in jail for his own protection, pending the inquest.

The body of Miss Margaret Whit, 21, was found with the skull fractured and covered with bruises in a shallow ditch near a creek early yesterday. Kenneth Garret, 21, who was a senior at Colorado college last year but did not graduate, was in a recent custody of police.

Clyde Harriet, district attorney, said today he was convinced the girl was "accidentally" killed, but he asserted there were discrepancies in statements made by Garret which he wanted to reconcile.

The prosecutor directed Garret to be isolated from all visitors in county jail for his own protection.

The district attorney said today Garret told him he knew Miss Whit and his brother and sister-in-law for the Sunday evening, drove to his brother's home for the women and saw them in a car. They were for a 10-minute ride.

He said he returned to the sleeping house and fell asleep in the car, leaving there 45 minutes. During the evening he said he and Miss Whit quarreled and he heard her last cry, which she had been wearing.

When he awakened he said he went into the sleeping house, asked for Miss Whit, and when his sister told she had gone out to transfer before he could see her he became alarmed. He said he and the Sleppa searched the neighborhood but could find no trace of the girl.

The next morning the body was found in the creek, about 100 feet from the sleeping house.

Starrett said it was "a theory" the girl had started to a bus line and had fallen over the bridge or a retaining wall, 11 feet high.

AFOL AIRS TWO FAMILY FIGHTS AT CONVENTION

Two Building Trades Unions Will Hold Separate Meets

By Joseph L. Miller
Associated Press Staff Writer

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 1.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor's two big family quarrels will be given a public airing tomorrow with the start of the federation's department convention.

Two warring groups of building trades unions, each claiming to constitute the "legal" building trades department, will hold separate conventions at adjacent boardwalk hotels.

In his report to the metal trades department convention, President John Pirelli will fire the opening shot in a renewed battle between craft and industrial unionists over how workers in mass production industries should be organized.

These department conventions are preliminary to the federation convention which opens here next Monday.

The building trades scrap started at the federation's San Francisco convention last fall when the "big three" unions—carpenters, bricklayers and electricians—attempted to wrest control of the department's offices from the regime of M. J. McDonough, president for many years.

A new group of officers, headed by J. William Wilson, the carpenter's union, finally won the federation council's support. But McDonough refused to give up his office. Twelve unions claiming a membership of 200,000 back him. Seven unions claiming a membership of more than 400,000 support Williams.

McDonough's faction has threatened to secede from the federation altogether. The fight almost inevitably will be carried over into the federation convention.

Pirelli indicated in his annual report made public tonight, that he felt it was time for a showdown on the issue of whether labor should be organized by industries rather than by crafts.

TEACHER DIES FROM INJURIES

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Miss Edith Vance, 24, high school physical education teacher, died in a hospital here today from injuries she received last Saturday in a fall from a horse.

Miss Vance had gone alone for a ride along a bridle path east of Lake Decatur. She was found unconscious beside the path where she had fallen apparently after a stirrup strap had snapped.

Miss Vance was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forest C. Vance of Champaign. She was a graduate of the University of Illinois and had been teaching here for two years. Burial will be in Urbana Thursday.

Share-Our-Wealth Being Sponsored by Rev. G. L. Smith

Louisianan Says Movement Is Growing Rapidly in South

New York, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Rhetoric of "strategic moves" to make his "share-our-wealth" movement a powerful influence in the economic and political life of the nation by 1937 or 1938, the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith arrived from Louisiana today for conferences with organization leaders.

Within two hours after his arrival, he was telling newsmen that the share-our-wealth movement in the south was growing because of "serious maladjustment" of the economic system there.

"The motley men of the south refer to the share-our-wealth adherents as 'poor white trash,'" he exclaimed. "It is significant that the controlled wealth of Andrew Mellon could buy for each the assessed value of the states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas, Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina, and, for good measure, Rhode Island."

The mission of the share-our-wealth adherents, he declared, is to "prevent the onslaught of our personal liberties of three men in the newspaper business, Col. Robert R. McCormick, Col. Frank Knox and William R. Hearst."

Though he was the organizer of the share-our-wealth societies, the Rev. Mr. Smith disclaimed any ambitions to enter political office. The late Huey Long was chief exponent of the Smith movement.

In alluding to the assassination of the senator, Mr. Smith said he and five other men in the society were in grave danger of death themselves.

Share-Our-Wealth Being Sponsored by Rev. G. L. Smith

Louisianan Says Movement Is Growing Rapidly in South

New York, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Rhetoric of "strategic moves" to make his "share-our-wealth" movement a powerful influence in the economic and political life of the nation by 1937 or 1938, the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith arrived from Louisiana today for conferences with organization leaders.

Within two hours after his arrival, he was telling newsmen that the share-our-wealth movement in the south was growing because of "serious maladjustment" of the economic system there.

"The motley men of the south refer to the share-our-wealth adherents as 'poor white trash,'" he exclaimed. "It is significant that the controlled wealth of Andrew Mellon could buy for each the assessed value of the states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas, Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina, and, for good measure, Rhode Island."

The mission of the share-our-wealth adherents, he declared, is to "prevent the onslaught of our personal liberties of three men in the newspaper business, Col. Robert R. McCormick, Col. Frank Knox and William R. Hearst."

AFOL AIRS TWO FAMILY FIGHTS AT CONVENTION

Two Building Trades Unions Will Hold Separate Meets

By Joseph L. Miller
Associated Press Staff Writer

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 1.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor's two big family quarrels will be given a public airing tomorrow with the start of the federation's department convention.

Two warring groups of building trades unions, each claiming to constitute the "legal" building trades department, will hold separate conventions at adjacent boardwalk hotels.

In his report to the metal trades department convention, President John Pirelli will fire the opening shot in a renewed battle between craft and industrial unionists over how workers in mass production industries should be organized.

These department conventions are preliminary to the federation convention which opens here next Monday.

The building trades scrap started at the federation's San Francisco convention last fall when the "big three" unions—carpenters, bricklayers and electricians—attempted to wrest control of the department's offices from the regime of M. J. McDonough, president for many years.

A new group of officers, headed by J. William Wilson, the carpenter's union, finally won the federation council's support. But McDonough refused to give up his office. Twelve unions claiming a membership of 200,000 back him. Seven unions claiming a membership of more than 400,000 support Williams.

McDonough's faction has threatened to secede from the federation altogether. The fight almost inevitably will be carried over into the federation convention.

Pirelli indicated in his annual report made public tonight, that he felt it was time for a showdown on the issue of whether labor should be organized by industries rather than by crafts.

BRITISH FLEET CAUSES ITALY NEW CONCERN

ASKS HERSELF WHAT BRITISH INTEND TO DO

Los Angeles, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Roscoe Ates—the stuttering movie comedian—never got his tongue tangled when he spoke unkindly to his wife, Mrs. Ates testified today at a divorce hearing.

What he meant, he said, Mrs. Ates told Superior Judge Isaac Pachter—and he said it without hesitation. Judge Pachter granted the decree.

Rome, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Italy, perturbed by the fact the British fleet remains in the Mediterranean, asked herself today "what does Britain intend to do?"

The naval concentration was construed by informed quarters as a military sanction. Therefore, Italy asked, why is Britain "considering" blockade when the league has no vetoed sanctions, even economic or financial.

A Reuters London dispatch from Addis Ababa said 16 Italian submarines were reported stationed in the Red Sea and in event of war would try to intercept munitions and other war supplies which may be shipped to Ethiopia from other countries.

Referring to the British concentration, the newspaper La Tribuna said "Everyone knows what to call such monstrous absurdity—the most incredible aggression."

Italian officials said they doubted the league would vote unanimously for military sanctions. Therefore, since Sir Samuel Hoare has limited Britain to collective action only, an authoritative person commented: "Britain or her own account has anticipated a program and measures of the league Italian quarters called 'Ethiopia impending mobilization a 'warmer threat' of war and said there has been no Italian advance across Ethiopia's border."

Addis Ababa, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Increasing tension between Italy and Ethiopia led the Italian minister here, Luigi Villalobos, to order today 12 Italian consuls in "Abyssinia" to leave their posts and return to Italy.

Some 20 other Italian consuls agents in the interior are trying to reach Addis Ababa, the Sudan or Ethiopia. They are forced to travel by horse or mule and because of the boggy roads, are making slow progress.

Floods have marooned four of the agents from Debra Markos on the right bank of the River Nile at Debra Markos, a journey from this capital. Ferries are unable to cross the stream.

Foreigners, convinced a general Ethiopian mobilization is imminent, expressed belief Emperor Haile Selassie would call this week-end. Such an action, said the Italian minister, would be only a formality. He asserted all Ethiopian able-bodied men long since have been called to arms.

Columbus' Diary

The finding of a purported diary of Christopher Columbus in the archives of a Russian town may be one of those jokes of which learned men are not thought to be capable. The diary is written in German and is dated Aug. 3, 1932, dedicated by Columbus to "my son, Diego. Just why Columbus, an Italian who did his biggest job under Spanish supervision, should be writing a book in German, is not explained by the finders of the document.

Why the book is in Russian archives is also a mystery. It should have been left with the American Indians or in a Spanish library. Columbus never was in Russia, or at least he did not tarry long. He had no leanings toward communism, and it is doubtful whether young Russians will be allowed to read his book, unless it tells how Spanish greed triumphed over Indian capitalism and redistributed the wealth of the red men.

The book was written before Columbus discovered America, which may be the reason it never had a wide circulation. He really had nothing to record before the big event; but what has been happening since has kept historians busy. If Columbus had waited until after he founded this country to write his experiences, any New York publisher would have been glad to promote his book. He could even have enjoyed the services of a "ghost" writer. The movie rights would have netted a rich haul. But he wrote too soon, and the book got buried in Russia. The Soviets are always suspicious of foreign literature.

No Humor, No Scripture

The bulky record of words piled up by the 74th Congress is out, and some interested students have been delving into it. They found little humor and little quotation from Scripture. Thirty years ago the record bristled with humor and Bible quotations.

But there were no laughs of any consequence in Congress this time, and the members were too busy passing made-to-order legislation to think much of the Scriptures. Had they looked into the Bible, they might have found things that would have deterred them in their reckless course of spending the people's money.

Most of the Congressional sessions were grim and dull affairs. The solons did nothing to make the people smile, but much to make them weep. The people have always overlooked many faults in their public men if the men themselves had a sense of humor and the ability to use it effectively. But few members of the present Congress have either.

Mystery of the Sea

There is no mystery which grips the imagination quite as strongly as the one which arises when a ship sails out into the ocean and then vanishes without a trace. Something about the mental picture of a ship fighting her last fight in the darkness, her people dying without even a chance to let folk ashore know what happened to them, puts a cold hand on the spine.

One of the greatest of such modern mysteries is that connected with the Danish training ship Koebenhavn, which sailed from Buenos Aires in December of 1928 and has not been heard from since. And the recent discovery of seven skeletons on a lonely beach in southwest Africa may at last clear up the mystery—at least in part.

These skeletons are believed to be those of certain members of the Koebenhavn's crew. The Danish government is conducting an investigation, and while the mystery may never be entirely solved, identification of the remains should at least dispel a part of it—and write one more tragic footnote to the annals of the sea.

Warning to Motorists

Texas courts have held that a motorist who is blinded by the headlights of an approaching car while driving at night, and who hits something while so blinded, is guilty of negligence.

The case which produced this ruling arose after a motorist, traveling at 35 miles an hour, crashed into a parked truck which he was unable to see because approaching headlights had blinded him. He was killed, his heirs sued the truck's owner, and the defendant replied that the dead driver had failed to exercise proper care.

This contention the court upheld, and its ruling is worth noting. A driver, it held, must anticipate the presence of objects in his path. If a headlight blinds him, it's up to him to slow down or stop until he regains his vision. If he doesn't do so, and hits something, it is his fault.

Jerseyville High To Play White Hall

Jerseyville—Coach Creamer of the Jersey Township High school will take his football proteges to White Hall Saturday afternoon for a daylight game with the fast eleven at that place.

Jersey High lost a tough game to Greenfield Friday night by a score of 2 to 0 on a fluke play, and the local squad is training hard this week for the White Hall scramble.

Jersey High demonstrated ground gaining possibilities with the use of the forward pass Friday night although Cannon at half back has a great growing arm and only needs a couple of fast sprinting players to receive him.

The ability of the line to take punishment was demonstrated in the defense of the goal line in Friday night's game when the Greenfield team was unable to push over a touchdown with the ball three feet from the goal on four attempts.

Creamer has indicated that there may be some important shifts made in the local team before the White Hall battle.

P. W. A. to Let Contract for New I. S. D. Building by Middle of December

Daniel T. Cloud, managing officer of the Illinois School for the Deaf received definite assurance yesterday that a half million dollar building program will be carried out at the school, beginning within a few months. A telegram from Bryant Hadley, assistant state architect, said the school's project has been approved by the Public Works Administration, and that the contract must be let by December 15.

A new dormitory, dining hall and kitchen will be included in the building program. This new building will be over 100,000 square feet in area, and will be constructed at the state school. The cost is estimated at about $500,000.

Because of the early date set by the government for letting of contracts, state officials will get busy at once on the completion of plans. Managing Officer Cloud will go to Springfield Wednesday to confer with A. L. Bowen, head of the Illinois Department of Public Welfare, relative to the new building.

The new buildings will replace those at the state school which have been in use for nearly 80 years. Enrollment at the Illinois School for the Deaf is now 738, making it the largest school for deaf pupils in the world.

Red Cross Launches Home Safety Drive In Morgan County

Chapter Begins Campaign to Include Inspection of Homes for Hazards

"The local Chapter of the Red Cross launches a campaign to eliminate accident-causing hazards in the home today," it was said by Gus Bergquist, chairman of the local chapter. "It is the chapter's purpose," Mr. Bergquist said, "to make the homes of this community safe. Home accidents are due to carelessness, negligence and lack of knowledge and most of them are preventable."

According to Mr. Bergquist millions of people are injured in the home each year. Last year more than 34,000 were killed and the number permanently disabled by accidents occurring in the home ran into six figures. "People do not realize that the home is not safe," Mr. Bergquist stated, "and it is the purpose of this Red Cross program to correct this erroneous belief, to point out common and uncommon home hazards and show how each may be eliminated and to conduct an actual inspection of the homes of this community."

A program of this nature, the chairman pointed out, is necessarily largely educational in character. The local chapter will campaign against disaster and fallacy through the medium of the written and spoken word. A comprehensive public speaking schedule is being arranged in an intensive effort to make children and parents aware of the very real danger which lurks in the home itself.

The generous cooperation of newspapers and various publications have been enlisted. Individuals, civic and social clubs and business groups are being contacted. Many have already pledged their aid. A number of national organizations have signified their willingness to help the Red Cross minimize home accidents and the close cooperation of the local branches of these organizations is anticipated.

"Special home inspection forms have been prepared," Mr. Bergquist said, "and are to be introduced into the homes here through the children in our schools. Arrangements have been made with school superintendents, principals and teachers so that school children will receive these blanks, take them home and conduct an actual inspection of the home to eliminate accident causing hazards with the help of parents or relatives and return the blanks to the school where they will be forwarded to the Red Cross for compilation of statistics to indicate what type of home accident hazard is most prevalent."

The local Red Cross states that the committee in charge of this special program will be chairmaned by J. M. Hollowell.

This home safety campaign, it is understood, will also include farm safety and safety while at work on the farm. Because of the inaccessibility of farms and the difficulty of securing accurate statistics pertaining to them, little safety pioneering has been done in this direction.

The Red Cross believes that knowledge of first aid will do much to prevent home accidents. A person instructed in first aid is accident conscious, and certainly when an accident does occur in the home the practical application of first aid knowledge may prevent a minor injury from crippling, a serious injury from killing.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Waltman, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McPherson, of Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Payne, Mr. W. P. Gilmore, Mrs. Ida Smith and Miss Bertha Dewey of Roodhouse were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Mansfield at the home east of the city, Sunday.

Lucille Barnwell spent the weekend in Alton with Mr. and Mrs. Ted Henson and baby.

HOLD SERVICES HERE FOR MRS. W. T. JONES

Dr. Freeman A. Havighurst of Grace M. E. church officiated at the funeral, and interment was made in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Two solos were sung by Mrs. Arthur Shenkel.

State Will Display Products of Farms
Grain from Hospital Farm Will Be Included in St. Louis Exhibit

Plans for a display of institution-raised farm and garden products at the National Dairy Show to be held in St. Louis soon were announced yesterday by Wigfall S. O'Hair, superintendent of animal husbandry, Illinois Department of Agriculture. Mr. O'Hair was a visitor at the Jacksonville State hospital, where he inspected the dairy herds and farming activities.

He reported that crops on Illinois institution farms this summer were good, despite early spring rains and dry weather conditions later.

The State will collect its finest farm products for an exhibit at the national dairy show. All kinds of grain, some of it grown on the state hospital farms near this city, will be included in the exhibit.

Baseball's Big Show Will Open At Navin Field, Detroit, Today

We were glad to see Alan Gould's fine summary of the World Series outlook and his forecast that the Chicago Cubs would win the title in six games.

Gould's opinion failed to back up our "hunch" for we have secretly been thinking that the Detroit Tigers would come through, probably basing the hunch more upon the fact that Detroit played in a series last year and the fact that the Cubs just wound up a long winning streak than upon anything else.

As "Jus" Wright usually winds up an argument about sports events—the old law of averages will get you.

Anyway—the Journal and Courier remain in readiness to play-by-play, so if you can't be in Detroit, come down and sit in one of our bleacher seats. The game starts today at 12:30 p. m. and Thursday at the same time. Friday and Saturday the games will be called at 1:30 Jacksonville time.

And after listening to several of the boys talk about the game Illinois College played at Kalamazoo last Saturday, we wonder that they took only a 13-0 licking. It seems that Kalamazoo riddled the Blueboy line, when they had the ball, and then kept the linemen from getting into the interference when Illinois had the leather.

Willis Munger, Louis Davis and Vernon Ford were the outstanding Blueboy linemen in the game, giving everything all the time they were in there. Tony Donat, Sam Mangieri and Nick Watts stood out in the backfield defensively. Donat with his savage work in backing up the line where he hauled down ball carriers weighing anywhere from ten to 20 pounds more than he, and Mangieri with some beautiful two leg tackles in the open field. Watts handled one of the half back positions with ease, knocking down passes and stopping the Kalamazoo backs with clean tackles.

There are some boys who can look forward at least to nomination for the College All-Star nomination from Illinois this year. They are Louis Davis and possibly Feduris. Munger is one of, if not the toughest guard in the Little 19.

Athletic Director LaRue Van Meter is getting ready to open baseball practice by this week-end. Equipment is being assembled at present, and some of it has been issued. The candidates for the basketball team will get their physical examinations before the week-end, and practice

80,000 Gallons of Milk Dumped Near Chicago

Pickets Break Seals on Five Glass Lined Tank Cars and Destroy Contents

Chicago, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Milk "dumping" and picketing had succeeded to-night in preventing an estimated 10 per cent of Chicago's milk supply from reaching its market, but the extent and the success of the movement were disputed points.

At Genoa City, Wis., a group of farmers, said to number between 100 and 125, broke seals on five glass-lined tank cars and dumped out 30,000 gallons of milk.

In Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin, a few similar, though smaller, incidents were reported wherein farmers sponsoring the stoppage halted trucks and dumped milk. No clashes had been reported.

Fred R. Wolf, Papineau, Ill., president of the United Farmers of Illinois, claiming a following of 15,000, announced the "milk withholding" movement was a success. United farmers are sponsoring the campaign.

His statement was countered by a pronouncement issued by Paul Potter, secretary of the Associated Milk Dealers, Inc., who said "only a drop in the bucket" had been diverted from the city's milk shed.

An issue was an increase of 75 cents per hundredweight as the basic price for milk paid to farmers, who now, under a contract with the Pure Milk Association, opposed to the movement, are getting $1.75 for the major part of their output.

J. H. S. Griders Get on Edge For Game

Want No More Trouncings, Their Attitude Shows; I. S. D., Routt Busy

Jacksonville high school's griders are getting themselves on edge for the game with Greenfield under lights at Greenfield this Friday night. They have plainly indicated that they want no more of the short end of the scores, and if that feeling continues to exist, Greenfield's veterans can look for an interesting evening.

Disturbed by Pittsfield's 6-0 victory over them, and completely disgusted with the break-down in the final half against Beardstown, which permitted the river city boys to run up a score, the Crimsons have been getting some hard work this week on the tackling dummy, in scrimmages, and in blocking as Coach Frank Walker tries to whip the team into shape.

Rockford is firing out a bunch of publicity this week about the game between Carthage and Augustana to be played Saturday night of this week in Rockford. Rick Ramey, sports writer for the Rockford newspaper, gives Coach Omer of Carthage the distinction of being the dean of college coaches in the point of service in the state.

Omer, a fiery veteran well known here, has been in the coaching business for 33 years—13 of them at Carthage. Before going to Carthage, Omer, who on his last appearance here offered to battle it out with one of the fans who was riding him, began his career back in 1902 when he coached at Thornton high, Harvey, Ill. The following year he went to Oak Park, where he remained for seven years. Bob Zuppke, University of Illinois coach, followed him to Oak Park.

From 1910 to 1917 Omer served as athletic director and track coach at Northwestern University, Evanston. During 1917 and until 1919 he was athletic officer at Camp Grant, and took up his coaching duties at Carthage in 1920. Omer was one of Justa Lingen's team-mates at Oak Park.

Millikin's football prospects have been given a severe jolt in recent weeks through the failure of two halfbacks upon whom Coach Leo Johnson was depending, to return this fall. Earl Weiss, signal caller, punter, passer and runner, and Loyd Davis, end, both failed to register this year.

Washington State will have five married men on its varsity grid squad this fall. . . . Jimmy Phelan, University of Washington coach, sees Stanford again winning the Pacific Coast football championship, with Washington State looming up ready to pop in on top should the Cardinals falter. . . . They're saying that Jimmy Bucher, the Dodgers infield find this year, is one of the greatest men in the majors beating out bunts.

Alan Gould Picks Cubs to Win Series in Six Games; Claims They Are Like College Team

By ALAN GOULD
Detroit, (AP)—For three more or less debatable reasons not necessarily confined to the baseball "dope" or succulent statistics, it is this writer's belief that the Chicago Cubs will beat the Detroit Tigers in a six-game world series.

It is fairly well known by now that the Cubs are the "hottest" team in either major league, fresh from a 21-game winning streak and booming toward the big show under terrific impetus. With their stretch ended, they may be overdue for a reaction, but they didn't let down until they crushed the last resistance of the celebrated Gas House gang in St. Louis and knocked out the elder Dean. Secondly, Chicago has a remarkably young, aggressive club that is geared for high speed. It's the one that might crack under pressure but it didn't. It's the tougher opposition than anything the American League could offer the Tigers. It has nothing to lose and everything to gain by shooting the works. No worries about past performances or previous disappointments will best this outfit.

In short, the Cubs act more like a college football team than an aggregation of professional ball players. Their attitude is in marked contrast to that of the more experienced but less agile Tigers.

They will enter the series with the same psychological advantage that swept the 1906 White Sox, the famous "hitters wonders"; and the youthful 1910 Athletics to victory over the great Chicago Cubs of Frank Chance's day; that carried the miraculous Boston Braves of 1914 to a sweep over the Athletics, and marked the dramatic triumph of the 1933 New York Giants, spurred on by Blondy Ryan, over the Washington Senators.

There's always the ultimate tumble, but the crest of a winning wave is a good spot and the Cubs are on it now. A good spot and the Cubs are on it now. A good spot and the Cubs are on it now. A good spot and the Cubs are on it now.

Finally, and to be more specific, it is this writer's view that lanky Lonnie Warneke, Arkansas rival of the celebrated Schoolboy Rowe, will give the Cubs a pitching edge. Warneke is the best right-hander in either major league at the time, the seventh straight victory, a two-hit shutout of the Cardinals last week, was a masterpiece. Rowe also is a great "money" pitcher.

Cubs Have Only Two Players Over 30 on Team for Series

By PAUL MICKELSON
Detroit, Mich.—(AP)—Meet the "Big 13" of the National League champion Chicago Cubs, whom Detroit meets in person this week:

Manager Charlie Grimm—Charlie used to be a good time Charlie, an easy-going baseball manager. Crisped and razed him when the Cubs slipped around early this season, so Charlie became hard-boiled, driving lethargy from his men and cheering them to victory. He managed the Cubs to their 1932 pennant, replacing Rogers Hornsby in August of that year and winning 14 in a row.

Augie Galan—A quiet fellow with a grin as wide as the Grand Canyon. Augie was a so-so third baseman in his first season with the Cubs last year, Grimm made an outfielder out of him and he became a star outfielder and a lead-off man. He's only 23. Augie played every inning this year. He tied with Pepper Martin in base stealing with 21.

Billy Herman—The Cubs bought him from Louisville for $50,000 in 1931 and he has been paying them big dividends ever since. He is rated one of the best second basemen in the National League. Billy led the league in total base hits, 56 of them doubles. He is 26.

Fred Lindstrom—A great money player, Lindy ended his transient ways by coming to the Cubs in the big deal last winter with Pittsburgh. He does a real job of tending center-field for the new champs. Freddie is not quite 30.

Leo Hartnett—Gabby is the team's "old man" in point of service, playing with the Cubs since 1922. He enjoyed his greatest season at bat this year. It's a bet the Tigers won't run wild on the bases against Gabby, who will be 35 in December.

Frank Demaree—Champion hitter of the Pacific Coast League while with Los Angeles last year, Frank was recalled by the Cubs and delivered. He's 25.

Phil Cavarretta—Phil's the baby of the team, only 19. He started out as a pitcher, winning 20 games for Lane Tech High, Chicago, last year. The Cubs sent him to Peoria in the Three Eye League for a tryout. Grimm put him on first when he returned this season and the Italian schoolboy delivered in grand style.

Stanley Hack—He's the "kid" of the club because he always acts like one. A greatly improved hitter and third baseman, he'll be 26 in December.

Bill Jurges—Bill has one of the best throwing arms in baseball. Not much of a hitter but when he does hit, it's usually a double. Bill is 28. He's a stone wall at short.

Lonnie Warneke—Lonnie's suit is a low, fast ball that skins past the batters' knees. He developed a good curve ball this year, running up his total victory string over four seasons with the Cubs to 82. Lonnie, also called Dick, is 28 and a typical, cool Arkansas boy.

Bill Lee—They call Bill the "Gen-

Feduris Joins I. C. Gridders For Drill

But Big Tackle May Not Be Eligible For Game With Millikin Next Week

Albert Feduris, co-captain of the Illinois College team, joined the rest of his football playing mates for yesterday's scrimmage and fundamental work, but there was a lingering doubt that the big fellow, whose presence was sorely missed at Kalamazoo last Saturday, would be eligible for either the game with Parsons College, of Fairfield, Iowa, here this Saturday, or with Millikin at Decatur this coming Saturday.

There is a rule in the Little 19 conference that players must be re-enrolled in college ten days after classes begin in order to be eligible for the first three weeks of the season. Just where Feduris stands is being investigated now by the athletic department.

But regardless of whether Big Abe goes in at tackle against Parsons or Millikin, one thing is certain. The Blueboys have dropped all thoughts of preparing for Parsons, intending to take them in stride and then move on to Millikin. Already the battle cry "Beat Millikin" echoes over the gridiron as the peppy Blueboys attempt to rid themselves of the sluggishness that hurt their chances last week.

And Feduris is contributing his bit. He went through a lot of hard work uncomplainingly, and stepped into his usual position on the varsity line when the teams lined up for signal drill and scrimmage. Not only was his work some of the best of the work-out, but his appearance put new life into his running mate, Mofford. Kurtz, and spurred the remainder of the team to better football.

One near serious injury marred the drill, but both players involved were able to get back on the field after the cobwebs were washed out of their heads. William Jones and Fred Coleman hit head on, neither wearing helmets, in an attempt to tackle Walter Dees, a shifty runner, during open field tackling drill. Both were stretched out on the ground for a few minutes, but came to quickly.

Lynwood "Schoolboy" Rowe And Lonnie Warneke Will Unwrap Good Right Arms

By Alan Gould
Associated Press Sports Editor
Detroit, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The new boom in American sports, given impetus this year by a succession of sensational developments on widely scattered fields of combat, tonight engulfed one of the nation's oldest, most familiar spectacles—the World Series.

Baseball's big show, shaking off the chilling effects of an unrelenting blast of football weather, opens tomorrow in full panoply. It brings together the Detroit Tigers, two-time American League champions, and the Chicago Cubs, stretch-sensations of the National League pennant race, in an upsurge of old-time rivalry.

Navin Field, furnishing the starting battleground for the second straight year, likely will be packed to its capacity of 48,700, a new high for the park, when the two lanky sharpshooters from Arkansas, Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe of the Tigers and Lonnie Warneke of the Cubs, unwrap their good right arms for a pitching duel that may add a bright chapter to World Series history.

With warmer, more reasonable weather promised for the opening day, it looked like a certain sell-out. Only unexpected reluctance on the part of cash customers seeking bleacher seats at $1.10 each in the huge temporary stands erected off the outfield can keep the park from being filled. All reserved seats have been sold. Spectators were getting $25 to $50 apiece for choice locations. The supply appeared far short of the demand.

It will be a million-dollar series if only five games are played, taking into account the fact that $100,000 for the radio rights will be added to the gate receipts. A six or seven game battle, which isn't at all unlikely, will mean an all-time financial record. The previous high price of $1,207,000 was set by the Yankees and Cardinals in 1926 in seven games.

The Cubs' right favorites in the betting tonight to take the opening game, not only because they are rated the "hotter club" but because of the acknowledged prowess of their right-handed ace, Warneke. The Tigers have been slight favorites to capture the series, among wagering men, but a rout of Chicago money indicated a possible switch. It may be an even-money proposition by tomorrow. Based upon the pre-series evidence, it looks like the biggest betting series in at least six years.

A majority of baseball experts are watching the two clubs go through their final practice paces between showers at Navin Field today, indicated a preference for Chicago's chances. Their opinions, however, are sharply divided for the most part.

Chicago's hopes are buoyed largely upon the long right arm of Warneke, the pride of the Ozarks, just as the Tigers place supreme confidence in the sharpshooting ability of Rowe. Both are great "money" pitchers with a world of stuff but Warneke enters the championship test with a record unannounced by any other pitcher in baseball over the last month. Lonnie has captured his last seven games, most of them under pressure, and against the best opposition could offer. Rowe's control has been erratic and the Schoolboy doesn't do his best in cool weather.

Manager Charlie Grimm, the banjo-playing, fun-loving pilot of the National League champions, ended all speculation about his pitching plans after putting his aggressive young outfit through the final time-up paces. He will pitch the veteran Charlie Root in the second game, probably against Tommy Bridges, slim curvball artist of the Tigers. Bill Lee, freshman right-hander, will draw the third-game assignment, at Wrigley field, likely against Detroit's Elden Auker, submarine right-hander.

Warneke will be shot right back into action for the fourth game and he will be ready again for the seventh game, in Detroit, if the series goes the limit. Grimm's pitching program does not include a starting assignment for Larry French, his southern star. French will be kept primed for relief work, if and when necessary, the manager declared.

Cochrane's pitching strategy took similar shape as Mickey indicated he would rely mainly upon Rowe, Bridges and Auker, his crack right-handers, for starting duty. The veteran right-hander, Al Crowder, will be in reserve, along with the southpaw relief pitcher, "Chief" Elton Hoeg.

The Cubs suffered a casualty in their final workout but it did not alter the series outlook. Clyde (Lefty) Shoun, working batting drill, had the thumb of his right hand fractured by a line drive off the bat of Manager Grimm, of all people. Shoun, although a series eligible, is strictly a practice pitcher.

A show of slugging power by big Hank Greenberg, the cleanup clouter of the home side, was the brightest spot of the last Tiger workout. Pressing so much through the last month that he lost the range and finally was tied for home run honors by Jimmie Fox. Greenberg has had Tiger rooters worried. The big Jewish boy, swinging from the heels, parked five successive balls into the left-field bleachers today.

Cochrane will stand the same lineup that lost a seven-game series to the Dean boys last year. This includes the

Dr. J. C. Shull Holds Farewell Services At Virginia Church

Popular Pastor Leaves For New Position as U.S. Camp Chaplain

Virginia.—Dr. J. C. Shull, pastor of the Presbyterian church, who has received an appointment from President Roosevelt as CCC district chaplain, delivered a farewell sermon to his congregation Sunday morning. In the evening a union service was held at the Presbyterian church, the Christian and Methodist churches of this city and Hickory church of Sangamon Valley joining in the service.

It was an impressive service, with special musical numbers consisting of a piano and pipe organ duet by Miss Edna Bingham and Mrs. S. R. Turner, a violin solo by Mrs. David Dadds accompanied by Miss Catherine Collins. Short talks were given by Rev. J. H. Parker of the Christian church, Rev. J. W. Armstrong of the M. E. church, Rev. H. D. Trickey of Hickory, and Rev. Arthur Beddoe of the Congregational church at Beardstown, Rev. Shull also gave a short address, expressing regret at leaving the local church where he has served for nine years, but hoping to be of greater service in his new field.

On Monday evening the members of his congregation gave a potluck supper at the manse, honoring Dr. Shull and his family. Dr. Shull left Tuesday for Ludington, Mich., where he will be located. Mrs. Shull and three sons will continue to reside here for the present.

About twenty-five people went to Peoria Monday to attend the Old Age Pension convention. They made the trip in the Ben Wilson truck. A picnic dinner was enjoyed in a park at the noon hour, and a parade was a feature of the day. Mrs. Dave Ruby, 88, who went from this city, was presented with a beautiful table lamp, being the oldest woman present. She and her husband were also the oldest married couple.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church held an all day meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. Elmer Ratliff, a former member, near Prentice. A basket dinner was enjoyed at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Jennings and daughter of Springfield were week-end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Thompson.

Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Yowell and daughter, Ann, motored to Monroe City, Mo. Sunday. They were accompanied by his mother, Mrs. D. K. Yowell, who returned to her home in Monroe City after a ten day's visit at the Yowell home.

John Rowan and sister, Miss Nannie, returned Sunday from a visit with relatives at Alton.

A. E. Crum returned to Preepoot where he is receiver of a national bank, after spending the week-end with his family here.

FARMERS THINK WOLF DOGS LEADS PACK OF DOGS DURING RAIDS

Jerseyville, Ill.—(P)—Walter Knight reported today a pack of wild dogs is committing depredations in Mississippi township in the southern part of Jersey county.

Knight said he fired four shotgun charges into a pack Sunday night but found no evidence he had hit any of them. A hog was killed by the dogs in this raid.

Residents believe a large wolf dog leads the pack and that it is the same leader of wild dogs which several years ago killed or maimed geese, ducks, chickens, sheep, cattle and horses near here.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Yowell and daughter, Ann, motored to Monroe City, Mo. Sunday. They were accompanied by his mother, Mrs. D. K. Yowell, who returned to her home in Monroe City after a ten day's visit at the Yowell home.

John Rowan and sister, Miss Nannie, returned Sunday from a visit with relatives at Alton.

A. E. Crum returned to Preepoot where he is receiver of a national bank, after spending the week-end with his family here.

Gravel 2 Mile Road East of Litterberry

Work Expected to Be Done by End of This Week; Oil Bluff Road

Spreading gravel on a two mile strip of highway directly east from Litterberry has been started by the Springfield-Pekin Sand & Gravel Company, low bidders on the job. Several trucks are being used to transport the material, and it is expected that the road will be finished by the last of this week.

The Litterberry road is being improved by the county with motor fuel tax funds. Other graveling projects have been planned to further improve the county's secondary road system.

The "bluff" road between Merceda and Arenzville was oiled Monday. Traffic should detour for several days to permit the oil to take effect.

The only witness at the hearing was Dr. Charles F. Ritchie, member of the hospital staff. There was no opposition to the man's release. State's attorney W. H. Absher looked after the interests of the state in the matter.

The program was in charge of J. D. Smith, general agent at Springfield. David C. Miesher, of Chicago, company field representative, was the principal speaker. Fifty agents attended the meeting.

Young Auto Drivers Complete Lessons

Skilled Drivers' Group Will Take Exam and Receive Practical Tests

The Morgan County Skilled Drivers' club will meet this evening at the Farm Bureau office. Miss Wilma Oxley of Franklin, the club president, will have charge of the meeting. The discussion will be conducted by Floyd Hess.

The club members will take an examination on a series of lessons which have been designed to develop in young drivers an auto accident prevention consciousness. The lessons include discussion of practical matters, such as good manners on the road, the use of brakes, lights, etc.

A demonstration of the driving skill of the club members is being planned for Saturday under the supervision of state police of the highway department. At that time the boy and girl who make the best showing will be selected as instructors for new groups to be organized in the county.

Chicago.—(P)—If there is anything trickier about preparing a football team for a night game, Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern, has an edge over Noble Kizer of Purdue.

Waldorf, in his first season at Northwestern, drilled Oklahoma A. & M. eleveners for after dark football battles on numerous occasions. Kizer will polish up his Boilermakers for the first "owl" game in Big Ten history with only the experience gained in head coaching the all star squad for its game with the Chicago Bears in 1934.

Kizer got down to business yesterday, drilling his squad from 5 p. m. to 7 o'clock. The second hour of the session was held under lights as Kizer bent his efforts to bring improvement over the showing the regulars made against the freshmen Saturday.

The Wildcats will not have an opportunity to work under game conditions until Wednesday night when the lighting equipment will be ready for use. Both teams will drill under the lights Friday night. Waldorf gave his squad a long session yesterday on blocking and tackling, items which failed to please him as the Wildcats defeated DePaul Saturday by a last period spurt.

Michigan, which opens against Michigan State Saturday, Iowa and Chicago, got by with easy workouts yesterday, but the other squads put in hard ticks. Illinois, snarling over the 6 to 0 defeat by Ohio University, scrimmaged until after dark. At Minneapolis, Bernie Bierman experimented with shifts in his lineup following his eleveners' unsatisfactory work against North Dakota State.

Dr. C. W. Spears made drastic reductions in Wisconsin's varsity and he sought to eliminate poor blocking and faulty execution of lays which contributed to a 13 to 6 defeat by South Dakota State. Two sophomore backs, Bill Dileo and George Miller played impressively as the Indiana varsity outplayed the freshmen in scrimmage in a tuneup on formations to be used against Centre college Saturday.

Ohio State's varsity had an off day, failing to keep the reserves under control in a defensive scrimmage. The second-stringers, handling Kentucky plays adroitly got away for several touchdowns, causing Francis Schmidt to order another defensive walkout for tomorrow.

Springfield, Ill.—(P)—Government attorneys today were given until October 7 to file their answer to a federal court suit seeking to restrain the enforcement of new waterfowl regulations.

CIVIL WAR VET AT ROODHOUSE 94 YEARS OLD

Joseph Baker Marks Birthday Anniversary at Home

Roodhouse, Oct. 1.—Joseph R. Baker, Civil War veteran of this city, marked his 94th birthday here today. Mr. Baker is enjoying good health and considering his advanced age, and does not miss the ball games, stories and world news on his radio. In observance of his birthday anniversary Mr. Baker's family planned a dinner Sunday.

Miss Virginia Lee of Carrollton baked the birthday cake, with the dates "1841-1935" in colors. Those attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Rowe, Lee and daughter Virginia of Carrollton, George Parks of Greenfield, Mr. and Mrs. Doughty Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Carol Fanning of White Hall, Mr. and Mrs. James Travis, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Travis and family, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tennill and family of Manchester, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wintler and son Clarence, Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Wintler and Mr. and Mrs. Bida Greenwalt.

Joseph R. Baker was born Sept. 30 at Sharon, Pa., and when the Civil War broke out he enlisted in the Union Army 1 Middlesex, Mercer county, Pa., and was assigned to Co. B, 10th Penn. Regiment Reserve Corps and served in this company during his military career. He was wounded once by a ball bullet in the hip which later went to the bone and lodged there.

Mr. Baker's regiment, the 10th Penn. Regiment, saw much service with the army of the Potomac. At Gettysburg this regiment has a large bronze regimental monument erected between Big Round Top and Little Round Top on the Gettysburg field, bearing the following inscription in part:

"10th Pa. Reserve, mustered in June 3, 1863. Killed 600. Total casualties 640. Killed and died of wounds, officers 7, men 130, total 137. Died of disease 50 men, wounded 13 officers, 261 men. Captured, 3 officers, 140 men."

His regiment was in the following battles and skirmishes, and Mr. Baker was in all except when with at Gettysburg. He was in the hospital for a time, and from the time of Spotsylvania during the last winter of his enlistment, he was located at Manassas as brigade commissary and missed some active service in the field of battle.

Battles, Skirmishes.
The following battles and skirmishes are to be noted: Dranesville, Mechanicsville, Gaines Hill, Glendale, Malvern Hill, Gainesville, Groveton, 2nd Bull Run, South Mountain, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Gettysburg, Bristoe Station, Mine Run, Wilderness, Spotsylvania, North Anna, Totopotomoy, Bethesda Church.
In July, 1913, Mr. Baker attended the encampment at Gettysburg and there renewed his acquaintance with his old comrades in arms. One in particular that predominates in Mr. Baker's mind his "Buddy" who enlisted with him, David Stambaugh. Also his brother, James T. Baker, of Sharon, Pa., of the 21st Pa. Regiment. There were something like 60,000 young veterans at this encampment and they were royally entertained.

At the close of the war Mr. Baker resided in Pennsylvania, about four years, and in the year 1869 migrated to Illinois and settled in Roodhouse township where he has since resided, being one of the early settlers in this community. Annually he would make trips back to the homefolks until recent years his age preventing such long trips.

In 1875 Mr. Baker as married to Flo Ella Millikin and are the parents of 7 children, 6 girls and one boy, as follows: Dwight Baker of White Hall, Mrs. Carol Fanning of White Hall, Mrs. James Travis of Manchester, Mrs. Rowe Lee of Carrollton, Mrs. J. J. Wintler of Roodhouse, Mrs. Bida Greenwalt of Roodhouse, and another daughter, Edith, having passed away several years ago.
